NEWSPAPER HEADLINES

Read the newspaper texts.

Then match each text to a suitable headline below. Put the letter of the text (A, B, C or D) next to the headline you have chosen.

Be careful – 2 headlines do not match!

A

Two days ago a huge sailing boat sank in a thunderstorm when crossing the sea between France and Great Britain. Luckily the captain and the crew of the lost boat could be saved by a Channel rescue team.

B

When a group of school children visited a bat cave in the mountains one girl got lost. A teacher and one of the group leaders went back into the cave to look for her. After half an hour in the quiet darkness the girl was more than happy to be with the group again.

C

Last Sunday a hot-air balloon nearly crashed into a wood. When the two men wanted to bring their balloon down a sudden wind took the balloon back up into the air. The yellow and blue balloon was driven fast into the direction of a nearby wood. Luckily the men managed to keep the balloon above the trees and bring it down safely on the other side of the wood.

D

A year ago a most valuable porcelaine animal figure disappeared from a museum in Vienna. Yesterday morning it was found in the cellar of the building. It was hidden in a plastic bag behind some big boxes. Now the police are trying to solve this mysterious case.
